THE FLOWER GIRL

Today was the best day. My Aunt Deb got married at a big church. I was the flower girl. I wore a beautiful white dress and a bow. I had a white basket, with pink flowers in it. I threw the flower petals. It was a pretty day. The sun was shining, and the white clouds were puffy. We took pictures outside in a garden. There was a big party after the wedding. I ate cake and lots of other food. The best part was when I danced with my dad. He let me stand on his shoes and we danced and danced. I like being a flower girl.
